WHY INVEST IN REAL ESTATE

It's no secret that real estate investing has played a huge part in the success story of most billionaires around the world today. It's a proven and tested way for all kinds of investors to get ahead and reach their financial and investment goals. So, with that said let's have a look at some of the top reasons why you should invest in real estate.

It's a Usable Investment

Property is tangible investment that provides shelter; a basic necessity for most people. This essentially means that should events take a turn for the worse you have a property you can move into and use as your home or alternatively lease out whilst you wait for capital appreciation. This is a luxury you simply do not get with an investment like the stocks for example and is rather unique to those that invest in real estate.

Real Estate Is Accessible to Most and Relatively Easy to Get Into Unlike investing in say the stock market or bonds, investing in property is rather simple. Of course, it requires a degree of due diligence and usually the help of an experience broker but these are minor in comparison.

It's Easy to Finance

Whilst It may not always feel like it when you're going through the application process, property finance it is in fact relatively easy to obtain. Home financing makes up a major part of any bank's business model and as a result they are more likely to lend on residential property than any other asset class. This makes investing in property far more accessible than most other asset classes.

Investment with Flexibility

Property is a rather flexible investment. Regardless of your financial goals there is an investment strategy that will suit you. Common strategies include; capital growth, buy to let, renovations, sub-divisions and even development.

Stability

Whilst not always true, generally speaking the property market is far less volatile than investments like the share market. What this means is that property is much less prone to short-term speculators and unlikely to experience drastic falls overnight. This is largely due to the fact that it's a usable investment and one that cannot be liquidated at a click of a button.

Listed here are just a few of the many reasons why every investor should have at least a part of their investment portfolio in real estate. Whilst there is no denying the effectiveness of investing in real estate it's still important to only do so with the appropriate strategy, knowledge and due diligence.

Retirement and pension fund investments package Our retirement and pension fund investment package is built on our Economic Scenario Generator, which delivers consistent modeling of a broad range of assets and economic risk drivers. Use them to analyze the impact of strategic asset allocations, design journey plans leading to self-sufficiency or buy-out readiness, and investigate the effect of liability-driven investments. Model alternative assets, including hedge funds and private equity funds, and traditional assets, such as equities, debt, and property, and enable stress tests and sensitivity analyses.

PENSION FUND INVESTMENT AND RISK MANAGEMENT

To achieve the best results and generate sustainable profits for our investors, we implement accurately defined profit-oriented pension funds investment strategies, design and test the effectiveness of hedging and risk mitigation strategies, using a comprehensive array of dynamic rebalancing triggers and derivative instruments, including limited price index (LPI) swaps We spare no expense in our perpetual drive to understand the impact of adjusting duration or credit exposure, changing the rebalancing strategy, or applying a new hedge to part of the liability risk exposure, in terms of solvency risk metrics or other capital requirements. Improve your investment design, governance, and communication for wealth management, retail investment, and retirement income, including risk-graded and target date funds, guarantees, Commercial Property Price Indices™ (CPPI), and diversified growth.

How Pension works

- You pay money regularly
- You get a top up from the government
- You have a pot of cash to live on when you work less or retire completely

A pension is simply a pot of money which grows free of UK tax.

You, your employer, and the government can all pay into it. You can also pay into someone else's for example for your spouse or children.

Choosing how to take your pensions

You can usually take your pension from 55 and have range of options to choose from for income. You'll also be able to receive up to 25% as tax-free cash.

How much can you add to your pension?

How much you should put in your pension depends on your personal circumstances.

Pension and tax rules can change, but as a rule of thumb, if you want to retire at 65, you should consider saving an annual percentage of your salary that's equal to at least half your age when you start saving. So if you start saving when you're 24, you should consider putting at least 12% of your salary in your pension each year until you retire. If you start at 40, you should consider at least 20%. Try and maintain this percentage as your earnings increase. Note: You can usually pay in as much as you earn up to £40,000 a year, and get tax relief. If you don't have any earnings, you can still pay in up to £3,600 a year and receive tax relief. You may be able to pay in more than £40,000 if you have unused allowance from previous years.

Investors are always looking for areas of growth in the overall public sector, and investing in the cannabis industry has proven to be a beneficial road to returns. A budding legalization movement across the globe and an emerging US market set to create US$80 billion by 2030 have led many investors to be eager to invest in the space.

The CBD industry is already worth $1 billion, and Wall Street experts think it could reach 16billion by 2025.

Meanwhile, celebrities are quickly flocking to this alternative-pot market

Invest in Medical Marijuana/Cannabis

Investors can gain exposure to medical marijuana by investing in individual stocks or exchange-traded funds (ETFs) that pool assets from many people to invest in many marijuana stocks.

Investors interested in owning individual marijuana stocks operating in the U.S. have limited options.

Because marijuana use is illegal in the U.S. federally, medical marijuana companies are often privately owned, rather than publicly traded, and companies that are publicly traded are traded on the lightly regulated over-the-counter market, rather than a major market exchange like the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE).

Should you Invest in Marijuana?

Let's cut to the chase: No one can ever say with absolute certainty that a stock is a sure thing. The smartest thing you can do as a potential investor is to carefully study the pros and the cons of adding Canadian marijuana stocks to your portfolio.

Benefits of Investing in Marijuana Stock

A Thrilling Ride: The pot industry is still in its infancy, and if you're an investor who likes the adrenaline rush of the ups and downs of an emerging industry, cannabis is one of the most exciting stocks to own at the moment.

Room for Incredible Growth: With the US still not showing signs of legalizing recreational pot use at the federal level, Canadian cannabis stocks have a chance to grow exponentially as the country tries to corner the market in North America and internationally as well.

A Stock You Might Believe In: If you're a "conscientious" investor who likes to intellectually and emotionally believe in the companies you invest in, then cannabis could be a relevant choice for you, depending on your interest and values. If you, a friend or a family member take medical marijuana, or if you support the use of recreational pot, investing in Canadian marijuana stocks is a chance to inject something you feel passionate about into your portfolio.

How can you Invest in Cannabis?

All this information about investing in marijuana stocks may seem overwhelming. But take heart: Whether you're an experienced investor or just starting to develop a portfolio, the good news is that PRIMEPEAKLTD has experienced stock traders who will help you in selecting the best stock to trade on and make profits for you.

We have a wide array of investment plans for our investors to choose from.

GOLD INVESTMENT PACKAGE

Most times, we trade the EUR/USD afterthought gold report. The EUR/USD is the most heavily traded gold backed currency pairs in the world. Our technology balances and maintains the portfolio over time so you don't have to.

Gold has stood the test of time as a reliable store of wealth, especially in unstable times. In fact, the “gold standard” was based on tangible value – arguably the same trusted value that gold, silver, platinum and palladium still have today. Remember: A golden retirement starts with gold. Some experts say you should guard against today’s volatile economic environment by lining your retirement and savings nest egg with gold and other precious metals. Here are some reasons you could consider including gold and other precious metals in your asset portfolio

Just in the course of the 21st century, the price of gold has risen 300%, while the purchasing power of the dollar has declined by more than 25%. During inflation currencies can lose value, while precious metals have historically retained value. Gold bullion is often seen as a potential hedge against inflation. The value of precious metals is recognized across most cultures and geographies, making it essentially a borderless currency. Help protect your wealth from economic crises, governments printing money, and uncertain times. Precious metals are prized for their rarity and beauty today, as they have been throughout recorded history.

PRIMEPEAKLTD offers the expertise to help you make smart decisions about obtaining precious metals products and about building a diverse asset portfolio.

We will help educate you about strengthening your portfolio, buying coins, and obtaining other precious metal products.

Historical Rising Price of Gold

When President Nixon moved the United States off the gold standard officially once and for all in 1971 and introduced the fiat financial system, the price for one ounce of pure gold was a mere $35.

In the half century since that time, the price of gold has risen to well over $1800 per Troy ounce, as of December 2020.

What other types of assets can you think of which have risen so much in the space of 50 years? While it may not retain that same torrid pace of appreciation over the next half-century, the fundamental appeal of gold prices throughout history is that they are expected to retain their value, even while assets, economies, and nations may suffer around them. In many people's eyes, gold is relatively stable, it's reliable, and if you don't already have some in your portfolio, maybe you should consider it now.

Why Investing in Gold?

In uncertain economic times, one thing has remained certain: gold always retains some value. Since the first Egyptian dynasty, gold has been revered for its beauty and intrinsic value.

Five thousand years later, gold is still a trusted choice for wealth protection. Gold has stood the test of time as one of the world's most valued assets. Emerging economic powers such as Brazil, China, Russia, South Korea, India, and Mexico, are all purchasing tons of gold.

Reasons to Invest in Gold

Gold is a time-tested way to protect and preserve a country's wealth, and it's no different for individual people with portfolios, who include gold for the very same reasons:

Portfolio diversification: Gold is an easy and convenient way to diversify your investment portfolio.

Security: – help protect your assets, and be prepared when times change, and the market become volatile.

Hedge against Inflation: Gold has a well-earned reputation for making a great hedge against the inflation that can eat away at the value of paper assets. No matter what happens to gold, it will retain the value that it took to mine and produce it, while paper assets can theoretically go to zero.

Political Instability Markets hate uncertainty. Gold is historically known for retaining its value regardless of external political conditions. Whenever there is a political crisis, gold tends to take off. People love the safety that investing in gold delivers.

Higher demand emerging markets, like highly populated India and China, have increased the demand for gold. Gold typically has a more prominent place in the culture of these types of countries. Gold demand in China has been steady among those who view gold bars as a traditional type of savings. In India, gold is highly valued during the wedding season, increasing the global demand for gold.

Gold IRAs Gold-based IRAs are becoming increasingly popular these days. Backing your IRA with gold offers excellent protection for your retirement funds when market changes can implode your overall investment portfolio. The gold IRA is a retirement account that is approved by the government and backed by physical gold.

Constraints on supply much of the available gold supply is the result of global central banks selling gold bullion. Generally, when the amount of gold decreases, the price of gold increased.

Bottom Line

If you're ready to diversify and protect your wealth in these uncertain times, we encourage you to reach out to us today. Take advantage of the safe harbor that only gold can provide.
